AMATEUR SLEUTHS TRAIL WIFE OF ONE,

Start Out With Mystery, Ruses and Wig-Wag Signals to Follow Mrs. Fordon.

Five mnateur fetentives, with much martery, with migwagging signals to each other on Broadway, with many ruses that failed to work and with considerable osentation and clamer, stalked young and pretty Mrs. Ella Forder from Coumbus Circle to Har-lem one rainy night. All their elaborate sleuthing terminated in their be ing ordered out of the Colonial Hotel, at One Hundred and Twesty-fifth street and Eighth avenue, for making too much noise. Now Alfred C. Fordon, vice-president of the East Orange Ampher Land Company, is endeavoring to get a di-verce from Mrs. Fordon on the testimony of the squadron of volunteer Hawkshaws who sleuthed it with him on that misty night. The case is on irial to-day before supreme Court Justice Ford and a jury.

The first of the battalion of wifehadowers to testify was M. I. For-tane, who used to be Mr. Fordon's southeaper. Mr. Forstone renarked that 'he didn't want to be mixel up in the business" when Mr. Forden invited JUST WENT ALONG TO IECIP. ROCATE A FAVOR.

oss-examination Mr. Fratone admitted Mr. Fordon had been a witness for him when he was a pary littrest in a divorce case oh, well little favore like that ought to be sciproested. So Mr. Forstone's averen to 'mizing" was overcome.

Mr. Forstone was dining at the Metropole when the invitation was extend-ed to him. Mr. Fordon calle his mother, Mrs. Matilds Fordon, a the telephone, said Forstone, and whn he came out of the telephone book he said: "Mother tells me that Ellais at Faust's restaurant with a man. Don't you want to go along?"

Fordon and Forstone milled ot en Broadway, where the aprinkling rain somewhat dimmed the electric fare. They went to the vicinity of Past's. Another friend entered the restarant and when he came out he wave his hand as a signal to Fordon and the others, who had joined him-two besides Mr. Forstone.

After a while Mrs. Fordon emrged from the restaurant. She was acompanied by a man. Mr. Fordon says the man was Frank Freeman. 'rom Faust's the chase led to Harlom via the subway. The five detectives—ha!

—were on the same train that carled

Mrs. Fordon.

Careful not to expose themselvs to view, the amateur sleuths wa checklire Fordon and her companion. They saw them enter the Colonial Hotel. Secretary the colonial Hotel. of the detectives, who were unknown to Mrs. Fordon, entered and saw herman companion register as "H. C. DeMott and wife," so the Court was tol to-day, "Mr. and Mrs. De Mott" wer as-

Archibald McLinstock, one of th five, related to the jury what happenednext. "We all went down the hall," ad he, "to room fi. One of the men kpcked on the door and asked if a waitr was wanted. A man inside the roor said, 'No.' Then we went away.

"A little while afterward we a went back. I knocked on the door. There was no answer. Then I knockedsain. The room was dark but I coul hear voices inside. At my second knek the man's voice asked what was anted. I said I wanted to set in to sut off the water on account of a leak. "There isn't any leak in here," said the man. Then we went away again, I little while later the proprietor toldus we would have to leave because a were making too much noise."

The Fordon's have one child, loro'fly, and years old, whose pretty dimpled face and golden hair attracts much attention when she was befor Justice Hijur some months ago in habes corpus proceedings brought by the pthor.
